"WE DON'T KNOW WHERE WE WOULD BE WITHOUT NEMOURS"

GABBY'S STORY

Gabby is a kind, smart, witty teenager. She loves being a competitive cheerleader, hanging out with friends, spending time with family, and playing with her dogs and cats. She's an honors student who always tries to do and be her best – even when facing an unexpected diagnosis.

In May 2019, when she was 16, Gabby began experiencing discomfort when swallowing that gradually became painful and extremely difficult. A biopsy revealed it was stage 3a Hodgkin lymphoma.

Gabby went through four 21-day cycles of treatment. She braved the ups and downs of treatment and her long hospital stays with a positive attitude and sense of humor.

“We feel very fortunate that Gabby received her treatment at Nemours,” says Gabby’s mother, Susan. “The doctors and nurses aren’t just experts at their jobs; they are phenomenal people who truly cared about Gabby.”

Gabby is now in remission and has happily returned to school and cheerleading. “We honestly don’t know where we would be today if it wasn’t for Nemours,” says Susan.
